Paper Submission Rules

1. All researchers are invited to present their work. However, TAOM membership is required for the presentation of accepted papers by at least one of the authors.
2. No one may submit or be associated with more than two papers.
3. Each paper is evaluated by 3 reviewers in a double-blind review process.
4. Submitted papers must not have been previously presented at an event at the time of submission. Submitted papers must not have been published both in digital or imprint format.
5. It is a commitment to attend the session in which the paper is presented, to participate in discussions, and to answer questions, and authors are expected to be sensitive to this.
6. Members must honor all professional commitments, including presentation of accepted papers and participation in scheduled roles such as chair, discussant, or panelist. If not attending a scheduled meeting is unavoidable, members should contact the organizing committee.

7. Researchers attending the congress are expected to be rigorous in the design, conduct, analysis, reporting, and presentation of their findings. Research rigor includes careful design, execution, analysis, interpretation of results, and storage of data. The presentation of the research should include a conclusion that presents both the strengths and weaknesses of the facts and findings.
8. No one can have more than 3 roles at a meeting. For example, roles such as paper presenter, session chair, special guest, speaker, or co-author may require a person to be in more than one place at the same time, so it is considered inconvenient to take on more than 3 roles. If the attendee is unable to fulfill his/her commitments with such intensity, his/her behavior may disappoint other attendees and the organizing team. It also ensures that meetings are broadly represented, preventing them from being dominated by certain groups.
9. To promote meaningful change, TAOM members should foster an environment of free exchange and constructive criticism within TAOM and be willing to share research and insights fully with other members.

Formatting Rules

1. Only full papers are accepted.
2. The paper, including the title page, abstract, text, figures, graphics, tables, appendices, and references, must be submitted in a single document and the maximum length must be 40 pages. The abstract should be a maximum of 400 words. At least three keywords should be determined.
3. Electronic submission number must be given as a header on the right side of the first page.

4. The font should be Times New Roman and 12-point. Line breaks should be adjusted to double space in the text, 1.5 spaces in the headings and single space in references.
5. Page layout; Word “Normal” margin (2.5 cm from right, left, top and bottom) and page size should be 8.5 x 11 inches.
6. Headings should be in three levels. Main headings should be written in capital letters, bold and centered, while second-tier headings should be written in bold, aligned to the left, with the first letters starting with a capital letter. Third level headings should be indented and written in italics as sentence form per paragraph order.
7. Page numbers should be added to all pages.
8. AMJ Style Guidelines should be followed for text, appendices, tables and figures, citations, and references. <https://aom.org/publications/amj/styleguide/>
9. The author's name should not be written in the papers. No acknowledgments should be given on the title page or in the text. Papers with names will be rejected.
10. Papers must be uploaded to the system in PDF format.

Paper owners should be aware of the expectations of the interest group to which they apply. They should organize their paper submissions according to the external expectations of the interest group. All papers will be uploaded to submission center at <https://taom.org.tr/taom2026/authors-reviewers/submission-center.html>
